

Midterm Study Guide (test on Friday, January 11th)

Your midterm is an assessment to see what you are retaining from our social studies class this school year. The questions are going to be similar to DBQ-style questions where you will have a quote, picture, map, etc. to read from to help you answer your questions. Your background knowledge from class and vocabulary understanding will help you even more.

Assessment: 36 multiple choice questions

How to prepare:

- 1) Review your notes (key vocabulary; important ideas/concepts, handouts glued into your social studies notebook)
- 2) Use the quizlets on Google Classroom (shout-out to Ms. O'Donnell for creating them!)
- 3) Use the resources I've uploaded to our class website (earlier classwork/handouts can be found in the "More" tab and then click on the "OLDER Classwork Page")
- 4) Topics covered:
 - a) Geography (how geography impacts civilizations, physical features, five themes of geography, etc.)
 - b) Prehistory (First People powerpoint, hunter-gatherers, development of agriculture, human migration, etc.)
 - c) Mesopotamia (geography, religion, achievements, political structure, economics, social structure)
 - d) Egypt (geography, religion, achievements, political structure, economics, social structure)
 - e) India (geography, religion, achievements, political structure, economics, social structure)

Midterm Study Guide (test on Friday, January 11th)

Your midterm is an assessment to see what you are retaining from our social studies class this school year. The questions are going to be similar to DBQ-style questions where you will have a quote, picture, map, etc. to read from to help you answer your questions. Your background knowledge from class and vocabulary understanding will help you even more.

Assessment: 36 multiple choice questions

How to prepare:

- 5) Review your notes (key vocabulary; important ideas/concepts, handouts glued into your social studies notebook)
- 6) Use the quizlets on Google Classroom (shout-out to Ms. O'Donnell for creating them!)
- 7) Use the resources I've uploaded to our class website (earlier classwork/handouts can be found in the "More" tab and then click on the "OLDER Classwork Page")
- 8) Topics covered:
 - a) Geography (how geography impacts civilizations, physical features, five themes of geography, etc.)
 - b) Prehistory (First People powerpoint, hunter-gatherers, development of agriculture, human migration, etc.)
 - c) Mesopotamia (geography, religion, achievements, political structure, economics, social structure)
 - d) Egypt (geography, religion, achievements, political structure, economics, social structure)
 - e) India (geography, religion, achievements, political structure, economics, social structure)